1-MAN CARS, FARE BOOST ARE OPPOSED

Common Council Committee on Utilities Votes Against Curtailment of Present System

MAYOR DECLARES SERVICE IS PARAMOUNT ISSUE OF THE DAY

Alderman Palmer Assails Company for Myrick Park Service; Handbrakes on Cars

The common council committee on public utilities passed resolutions Thursday night which put them on record as against the proposed one-man street car for the north side and also against increase in the fare. The meeting was the second the committee has held as a result of the appeal of the street railway company for relief from the alleged financial straits that the company says it will be in this year unless fares are increased and one-man cars installed on all lines in the city.

The first objection to the one-man cars was voiced at the meeting by a member of a committee of street railway employees that attended the council committee meeting. There are now forty-eight regular conductors and motormen and ten extras. If the one-man cars are put on the north side, it was said, the regular fare would be reduced to thirty-four and the extras to two or three, or in other words sixteen or seventeen employees would lose their jobs. It was also asserted that one man can't do the work of two men on a street car, and keep up the running time.

Service Is Paramount Question

Mayor Bentley said the paramount question was service and that installing more one-man cars in La Crosse was a step backwards, relegating the city to the village class. He favored giving the street car company financial aid from the city budget or increasing the fares, if it is shown that the company will actually lose money by operating on the present basis, rather than curtail the service now being given the city. The one-man cars do not give the service the people want and are not a success, the mayor declared. "If fares are raised," said Mr. Bentley, "I want reduced fare coupon books good for certain hours of the day for the laboring people and school children. Let's decide this question here without going to the railroad commission. The next thing we should do is find out what the company's investment is and what the operating cost is. They are entitled to a five or six per cent return on their investment provided they give service."

Alderman Verchota said he was against the proposal of the mayor for a subsidy from the city to tide over the street car company. He also was not in favor of one-man cars not boosting of fares.

U. S. TO TAKE NO PART IN LEAGUE MEETING FRIDAY

Mandates to be Discussed in Council Meeting at Swiss Capital

WHITE HOUSE HAS NOTHING TO SAY ON HOLT LETTER

Withholds Discussion of Plans Till Peace is Effected

EDITOR'S NOTE—The text of the Holt letter to President Harding will be found on page 9.

WASHINGTON.—The American government, it was learned today, does not contemplate participation in the deliberations of the council of the league of nations which convenes Friday at Geneva for consideration of problems arising out of the allocation of mandates. A suggestion that the United States be represented was made by the president of the council after the United States had protested against the award of mandates without its consent.

No reply to Holt

Hamilton Holt's letter calling on President Harding to disclose his plans for an association of nations to replace the league, has failed to draw any reply from the administration, and indications are that none will be made at least for the present.

Mr. Holt headed the pro-league republicans during the campaign. It was said at the white house that his open letter made public in New York Thursday had not yet been received. Further than that, officials refused to comment.

The impression was permitted to go out, however, that if President Harding replies to the letter he will not enter into any detailed discussion, and that so far as the administration is concerned, the association plan must remain for the present in an indefinite status as the administration prefers first a definite settlement of peace and a restoration of stable conditions in Europe.

No Final Plan Approved

Some persons in the confidence of the administration said that progress of a preliminary character on plans for the proposed association had been made and that at least one draft of a plan had been made by an eminent authority on international law at the request of President Harding. The president, these people say, has not approached the point of giving approval to anything final and the indications are against any international negotiations on the subject in the immediate future.

Discuss World Court

One draft of an association plan prepared at the president's request is understood to be constructed about the principle of a world court and an international conference for the discussion of questions likely to lead to war. This was the principle advocated by Mr. Harding during his campaign. There are no outward indications that he has changed his position.

Both white house and state department officials continue to decline to reveal what specific steps the president has in mind to carry out such a policy. Although the president's first address was interpreted by some as favoring ratification of the Versailles treaty with broad reservations, there is as yet no indication that he is preparing to resubmit the treaty to the senate.

On the contrary the indications are that Mr. Harding is developing his international policy step by step and does not care for the present, to commit himself beyond the first phase of the process which the administration feels is the passage of a peace resolution by congress.

WON'T ENTER TREATY AIMED AT U. S. SAYS BRITISH OFFICIAL

LONDON.—By The Associated Press.—Austin Chamberlain, government leader in the house of commons, declared in the house Friday afternoon with regard to the renewal of the Anglo-Japanese treaty: "Although I do not in any way wish to pre-judge the action of the imperial conference, it is right to say at once that we shall be no party in any alliance directed against America or under which we can be called upon to act against America."

SENATE AND HOUSE DEADLOCKED ON NAVY APPROPRIATION BILL

WASHINGTON.—Conferences between the senate and house on the naval appropriation bill ended Friday in a deadlock and the $40,000,000 bill with the Borah disarmament conference amendment was taken back to the house for action.

DIGNITY RATHER THAN COMFORT IS SENATE'S CHOICE

MADISON, Wis.—Senators determined Friday that they would rather be dignified than comfortable, and turned down 27 to 2, a motion that rules be suspended to enable them to enjoy their shirt-sleeves.

Senator Charles Mulberger started trouble when he came into the senate displaying a silk shirt. President Tim Tom, Timothy Burke spoiled the violation of the rules and ordered the senator to replace his coat, explaining that the upper house in maintaining dignity with the thermometer at 90, was merely following precedent established by the English parliament at the time of John III.

A move to suspend the rules produced a roll-call with only Mulberger and Conant on the side of comfort.

"How about the newspaper guys, don't they have to put on their top coats, too?" Senator Conant demanded when the result of the vote was announced. President Burke declared that it was their privilege to be undignified.

LEAGUE PRESIDENT SEEKS APPROVAL OF U. S. ON MANDATES

Urges Allies to Reach Agreement With Washington on Disputed Points

LETTER IS REGARDED AS RECOGNITION OF U. S. CASE

Hints that Allies Had Better Get Together With U. S.

PARIS.—By The Associated Press.

Dr. Gaston Du Coudra, president of the council of the league of nations, had addressed identical notes to the prime ministers of France, Great Britain, Italy and Japan, with regard to the urgency of having the approval of the United States before decisions can be taken on mandates for the former German colonies. The contents of the note have been communicated to the United States government. Dr. Du Coudra, after summarizing in his note the situation created by the attitude of the American government which has indicated its intention not to make representations at the coming meeting of the league, and the position of the council itself, says: "I therefore, venture to ask the principal allied powers to be good enough to make every effort to arrive at a solution of the point under discussion between them and the council of the league of nations to settle the whole question of mandates before the next meeting of the assembly."

Admits U. S. Case

GENEVA.—By The Associated Press.—The note of Dr. Du Coudra, president of the council of the league of nations to the prime ministers of France, Great Britain, Italy and Japan with regard to mandates is interpreted in league of nations circles here as virtually admitting the strength of the American case and as strongly hinting the allies had better make arrangements with the Washington government before the assembly of the league meets in September next.

Such a disposition of the mandate question would remove what is regarded in these circles as the greatest danger to the prestige of the league.

CHARLES JOLIVETTE HAS LEG FRACTURED RESULT AUTO CRASH

Drinking Fountain at Fifth and Main Struck by Car Injuring Jolivet

MALINDA SEILER IS DRIVER OF AUTO FORCED TO TURN

Claims Accident Was Fault of an Unknown Driver

DECLARED by eye-witnesses to have been crowded to the curb by an auto driver approaching the corner from the north, a car driven by Malinda Seiler, 1228 Market street, struck the drinking fountain at the corner of Fifth and Main streets Thursday evening at 6 o'clock resulting in fracturing a bone in the right leg of Charles Jolivet, 1113 Liberty street. Occupants of the car were not injured.

According to the report of people who rushed to the scene, Jolivet was drinking from the fountain at the time of the accident. Standing on the opposite side from where the car struck, Jolivet was said to have been caught underneath the fountain as it tumbled to the walk after being struck by the car.

He was released by bystanders and carried to the office of Dr. Rosholt, and later taken to the St. Francis hospital where an X-ray examination revealed that one of the bones in his leg had been fractured. Although slightly bruised, he escaped further injury, according to a statement of Dr. Rosholt Friday.

Miss Seiler said that the accident was directly the fault of an unknown driver in a big touring car who failed to observe the "rules of the road" at the corner when her machine and the touring car reached the corner at the same time. Miss Seiler was driving east on Main street and the touring car was coming south on Fifth. Her car was first at the crossing, Miss Seiler claimed. When she was in the middle of the crossing, however, Miss Seiler noticed that the touring car had not slowed up, she said, and was coming straight for her.

In order to avoid a collision, she twisted her wheel and swung to the right, Miss Seiler said, climbing the curb and striking the fountain. At the same time the touring car swung just enough to miss her sedan, and shot east on Main street.

The number of the touring car was not obtained. Bystanders said it was painted green and was occupied only by the driver.

ASSEMBLY VOTES TO RESTORE MEASURE TO ITS ORIGINAL FORM

Lower House Adopts Measure With Sachjen Amendment Included

MOVE TO RECONSIDER KEEPS BILL FROM THE SENATE

Matheson Attacks Bill as Less Effective than Present Law

MADISON, Wis.—The Blaine dry enforcement bill with the Sachjen home brew amendment was made a special order of business on next Tuesday's calendar by the senate Friday on request of Senator Severson.

It is judged certain that the senate will not recede from its original position against home brew. Conference committee will then be appointed by the senate committee on committees and the speaker of the assembly, both original position against home dry, to agree on a measure to be reported back to the legislature. It is believed that this proposal will have the Olson amendment attached prohibiting manufacture of home brew.

Statement was made by the Anti-Saloon league that if the assembly refused to accept the conference committee report there would be no dry legislation this session.

MADISON, Wis.—Home brew was restored to the Blaine enforcement bill by the assembly Thursday night on a vote of 47 to 40. The lower house refused to reject the Sachjen amendment placing the bill in the form it came from the governor, 38 to 40.

Enactment was given by acclamation as soon as the home brew section was added, and the measure then passed under suspension of rules, 51 to 35, with all so-called wet members of the lower house voting for passage and drys opposing.

Moves Recommendation

Motion of Assemblyman Polakowski to reconsider the vote by which the bill was passed, will result in keeping it away from the senate today when a full membership is present, unless the lower house suspends rules and gets the measure to the senate.

Senator Severson, member who introduced the proposal in the upper house, said that if taken up Friday in the senate it would be killed, leaving enforcement of prohibition by the state to be carried out through the existing Mulberger law.

Assemblyman Sachjen, author of the assembly home brew amendment, and Assemblyman Dahl upheld the administration stand favoring state sanction of liquor manufacture in the home.

Aimed at Moonshiner

Contention was made by both speakers that the governor's bill was aimed directly at the moonshiner, rather than at the ordinary citizen who might want to manufacture liquor in the home for home consumption.

"Wisconsin is classed as a wet state, and prohibition enforcement to be effective must be applied gradually," Assemblyman Dahl said. "To clamp on a stringent dry law at this time would only cause serious dissatisfaction, which could be avoided by a gradual application."

Assemblyman Matheson, author of the enforcement measure vetoed by the governor, attacked the bill as wet and less effective than the present law, and urged acceptance of the proposal as it came from the senate with the Olson amendment prohibiting manufacture of moonshine in the home.

"I am touched by the good purposes of some people to let the good housewife have a pint of the harmless mulberry wine they speak of," Assemblyman Matheson said, "but where are you to draw the line between the harmless mulberry wine and the moonshiner's still. It is simply a question of home brew and moonshine."

BRITISH MINERS REJECT OFFER OF THE MINE OWNERS

LONDON.—By The Associated Press.—The ballot of the coal miners on the question of a strike settlement favors a continuation of the strike, it was officially announced Friday afternoon.

The result of the ballot, according to official announcement was:

For acceptance of the mine owners' terms, 183,827; for rejection, 432,511.

Thus the vote gave the necessary majority for a continuation of the strike.

IMPORTANT BILLS DISPOSED OF IN PAST TWO DAYS

MADISON, Wis.—Two days of high pressure sessions carried on morning, afternoon and night have practically cleaned up many of the larger measures of the session. Summary of the accomplishments of the past two days follows:

The Severson $6,000,000 income surtax, the principal administration tax measure, was killed in the senate on a close vote.

The Arnold $26,000,000 income tax bill, calling for graduated increased rates, was killed in the senate without debate after the Severson bill had been disposed of.

The Dahl $17,000,000 income tax bill, backed by the administration, was killed in the assembly after all maneuvers to save it for a time being, at least, had failed.

Investigation of tax methods by an interim legislative committee was approved by the assembly, which adopted the Ingalls resolution. The measure has gone to the senate for action. Appropriation of $5,000,000 annually to the university and of $1,800,000 annually to the normal schools was voted by the senate as recommended by the joint finance committees.

The administration marketing bill is tied up as a result of senate action in amending out its trade commission features, and then refusal to concur in the amendments.

Classification of highways to prevent heavy truck travel was accepted by the assembly after being passed by the senate. This measure, of far-reaching importance, has gone to the governor for signature.

The Peterson bill giving taxing power for school purposes to local boards of education in place of common councils and commissions was engrossed in the assembly. It has gone through the senate.

Assembly votes to restore home brew to the Blaine prohibition enforcement measure by adopting the Sachjen amendment placing the bill in the same form in which it came from the governor.

JUDGE SMALLEY TO RETAIN HIS PLACE ON CIRCUIT BENCH

Jurist Cleared of Charges of Violating Corrupt Practices Act

STATE MAY APPEAL CASE TO THE SUPREME COURT

State Prosecutor Confers With Morgan on Plans

LANCASTER, Wis.—Judge Sherman H. Smalley will retain his seat as judge of the Fifth judicial circuit as a result of the jury's decision Thursday night clearing him of charges of violation of the corrupt practices act, in the trial brought here by the state.

The jury decided that Judge Smalley did not circulate or authorize the circulation of alleged libelous campaign leaflets objected to by ex-Judge Levi H. Bancroft, Richland Center, whom Smalley defeated in April election.

The decision is virtually a verdict that Smalley is adjudged not guilty of violation of the corrupt practices act. The case was the first brought in Wisconsin in the ten years in which the act has been in effect.

The jury was out four hours. It is possible that the state may appeal to the state supreme court, J. F. Clifford, Green Bay, special prosecutor for the state, went to Madison to confer with Attorney General Morgan, Judge Reid, Wausau, who presided told the attorneys they had one week in which to file any motions and two weeks to submit briefs on questions they wish to argue.

Judge Bancroft said that while he was disappointed at the verdict, he was satisfied that the residents in the district know what was brought out in the testimony and feels that he has been cleared of charges in the leaflets, chiefly that he opposed prohibition and woman suffrage.

First information regarding the accident at Madison was received by the Palmer family Friday morning when a reporter for the Tribune and Leader-Press broke the news to a brother of the injured girls. He said that some one had rung up the house over long-distance telephone Thursday night, but the connection was broken and he did not receive the message. Mrs. Palmer, the mother, is visiting in Caledonia. She was advised of the accident during the morning and planned to leave on the first train for Madison.

The dispatch from Madison telling of the accident follows:

GERMAN MERCHANTS MAKING WAR UPON GOODS OF ALLIES

Hamburg Starts Counter-War Against Customs Tax and Move Spreads Rapidly

GOODS MADE IN BRITAIN AND FRANCE BLACKLISTED

Women Take up Fight Started
by Business Men

If you believe that fixing of reparations terminated the German problem, you are wrong—as Milton Bronner, European correspondent for the Tribune and Leader-Press, has found out by a first-hand study of Germany and the German people today. This is another of Bronner's dispatches.

BY MILTON BRONNER
LEIPZIG.—"Kauft keine feind-bundwaren"—"buy no enemy goods!" That sign I saw for the first time in a big Hamburg shop. I thought at first it was probably a leftover from the early days of the war.

"Feindbund" literally translated means "alliance of enemies." Hence it might be translated "allied."

I soon learned that the placard was not a relic of the old war, it was the sign of a new war.

German business men are appealing to German people to stand by them in a trade war which they say has been forced upon them by the allies' action in putting up customs barriers on the Rhine and fixing a big tax on all German exports.

Hamburg at once started a counter-war. Pictures showed that Germans were buying large quantities of French wines, perfumes and toilet articles and various English products, especially cigars.

Patriotic Boycott
So Hamburg conceived the idea of a patriotic boycott. The Chamber of Commerce, the hotel men's association and other organizations took up the matter. They advertised the idea in the newspapers. They scattered handbills. They got up little stickers. They put placards on all drays and delivery wagons. They stuck cards in the show windows.

The result?
I went to a number of restaurants and hotels and asked for French wines. The waiter pointed to the wine list on which in red ink there was printed: "We sell no enemy goods."

The women took up the fight. One of them wrote a newspaper that in 1920 Germans consumed 88 million marks' worth of imported preserves, 40 millions of perfumes and soaps and 230 millions of liquors and wines.

She appealed to the German women, asking who would buy French and English goods when she must say to herself that through this deed a German workman was without bread; through this she is helping the fatherland to further downfall? She wound up with an appeal which has been echoed in many quarters:

"German work and German industry must be helped by German buyers. Therefore German men, German women, buy only German wares!"

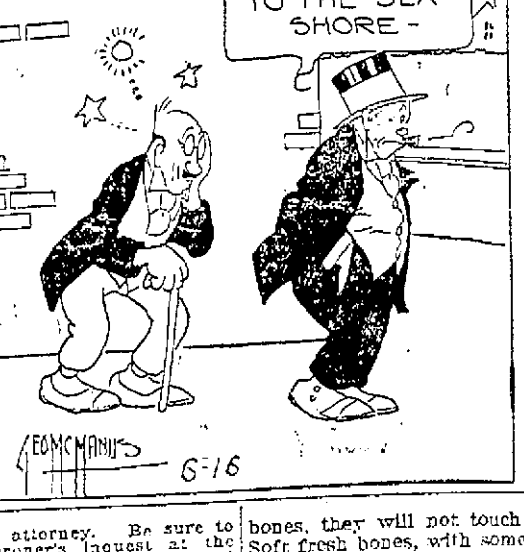

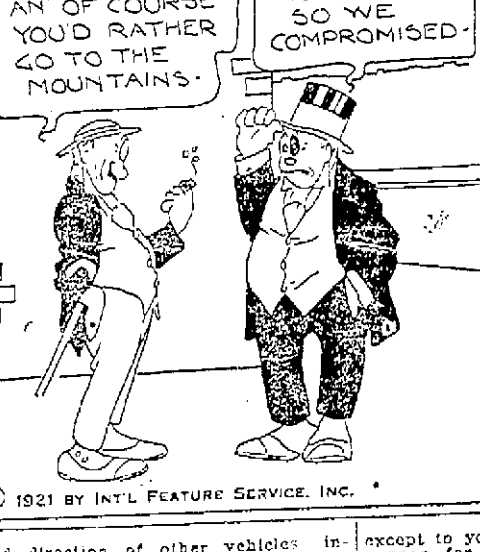

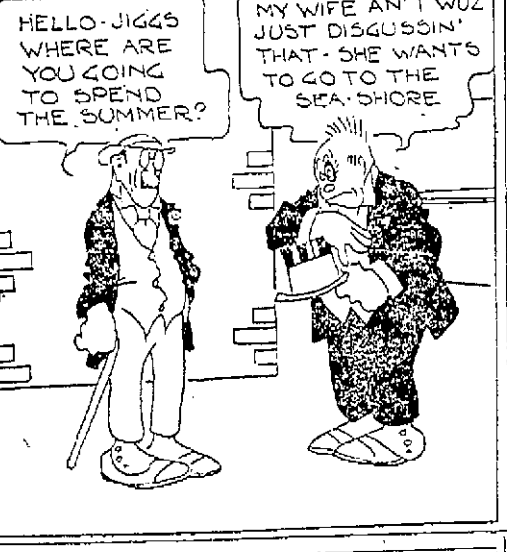

Hamburg business men declare the movement has already had a big effect in France and England. They say that leading French and British dealers have been urging their respective governments to be more lenient with Germany.

Leipzig Follows
In this city I attended a meeting at the hotel Sachsenhof, where the leading business men, newspaper proprietors and editors and the prominent members of all the political parties discussed whether Leipzig should imitate Hamburg's boycott movement.

It was unanimously decided to do so.

One million stickers were ordered printed. They are to be pasted on all letters and envelopes sent out by Leipzig.

BRINGING UP FATHER

sic firms. Cards are to be hung in shop windows and street cars. A resolution was unanimously adopted. It said England and France were waging against German business the long-threatened economic boycott. The German government could not help business men, because it was chained by the Versailles treaty. Self-help meant that for all citizens of every class and of every degree of wealth, it was a patriotic duty to give up the use of enemy goods and consume only things made in Germany.

(In the next article Bronner will tell you how German women are going beyond bounds of the three "K's" which the Kaiser said should content them—in English, "kitchen, children and church.")

A JOKE THAT RECOILED

A young man was walking up and down the platform of a country railroad junction in England trying to see a car that had a vacant seat. He didn't find it, and assuming an official air, he walked up to the last car and announced in stentorian tones: "All out here, this car isn't going."

There were exclamations loud and deep from the occupants of the car, but they all piled out and made their way to cars ahead. The smile on the young man's face increased as he took possession of a seat and appropriated another for his luggage.

"Ah," he murmured, "it's a grand thing to be born clever! Now I wish they'd start."

By and by the stationmaster put his head in the door: "are you the smart young man who said this car wasn't going?"

"Yes," said the clever one, smiling.

"Well," said the stationmaster, with a grin also, "it isn't. The brakeman heard what you said, and he uncoupled it. He thought you were a director."—Pittsburgh Chronicle-Telegraph.

SAFETY LESSONS FOR AUTOMOBILE DRIVERS

Springs, Frame, Loading, and Tires

1. Broken springs and many serious accidents may be avoided by:
  - a. Keeping spring clips tight
  - b. Using rebound clips
  - c. Lubricating springs properly
  - d. Proper loading
  - e. Careful driving, especially on rough roads

2. The frame can be kept in good condition by:
  - a. Frequent cleaning. This prevents rust
  - b. Keeping all bolts tight
  - c. Replacing all loose rivets
  - d. Proper maintenance and adjustment of all brace rods

3. When loading:
  - a. Avoid overloading one side
  - b. Do not attempt to carry more than the rated capacity of the car
  - c. Do not pile too high; neither should the load be top-heavy. Load heavy articles on the bottom and light articles on top
  - d. No part of the load should extend beyond the sides of the car
  - e. Neither should the load extend beyond the back of the car. If pipes or other articles are loaded which must project beyond the end of the car, a bright red flag in daytime, and a red light at night should be attached as far as the end of the projection. Be especially careful when turning corners to make sure that you do not swing around and strike pedestrians, objects, or other vehicles with the projecting load
  - f. Tires sometimes cause accidents

- a. A blow-out especially when on a front wheel and when speeding may overturn the car or result in some other serious accident
- b. It is dangerous to run a car with a soft tire, especially if the rims are of the quick detachable type. Soft tires, especially on front wheels, make steering difficult, consume extra power and may accidentally be pulled off the car easier than if they were properly inflated. Throwing of tires is dangerous; if the car is traveling at high speed it may even cause the car to overturn.

- c. If rims are of the split-rim type, lock rim properly before it is put on the wheel. Be sure wedges are screwed up tight
- d. Do not over-inflate the tires. Air expands when heated. A tire which tests at 60 pounds in a garage may show over 70 pounds after the car has been driven at a good speed over a hot road
- e. If wire wheels are used, be sure they are securely locked, all spokes tight, and wheels running true
- f. When applying brakes, never lock the wheels. If wheels are locked, not only does it increase the liability of the car to skid, but it is extremely hard on tires

Automobile Accident Reports
5. No matter how trivial or how serious it may be, get the facts about every accident in which your car is involved. These facts should be written on paper at once, for they may be of great value to you, your employer, or to your insurance company.

6. The important points in such a report include:
  - a. Name, sex, and address of injured persons, other drivers, and witnesses
  - b. License numbers of other cars involved
  - c. Exact location of accident (street, house number, etc.)
  - d. Date, and time of day or night
  - e. Weather conditions (rain, snow, clear, dark, etc.)
  - f. Street conditions (dry, wet, asphalt, brick, etc.)
  - g. Nature and extent of accident (persons injured, damage to property, another or your own car, etc.)
  - h. Circumstances of accident (speed) and direction of other vehicles involved, were horns used or proper signals given, etc.

Why Hens Eat Eggs
There is always a reason for every thing, and hens eat their eggs because their food is not sufficient to satisfy their necessities. If only grain is given to fowls, whose natural food is part animal, chiefly insects and worms, there will be a longing for other foods; and the eggs furnish this. So, if the fowls are given some meat, scraps or finely-broken fresh

7 GRADUATES OF INDIAN SCHOOL TO SEEK HIGH HONORS

275 Students Enrolled Last Year: Commencement Exercises Held

TOMAH, Wis.—On Tuesday evening, June 14, the Tomah government Indian school closed one of the most successful years of its long career of twenty-eight years. Two hundred seventy-five Indian boys and girls from various reservations in Wisconsin, Minnesota, Michigan and other states were enrolled at this school. Wisconsin's only non-reservation school. Of that number, two hundred left for their homes on Wednesday night, the remaining seventy-five staying at the school for the summer. The school is vocational in character and takes pupils from kindergarten age until they finish the course. A diploma allows its holder to enter high schools or into higher institutions of learning in the Indian service.

Seven pupils were graduated on Tuesday evening from the school at impressive exercises. Seven Indian Indian boys and girls from the Menominee, Chippewa and Oneida tribes received their diplomas. Every one of the number is planning to go on to higher institutions of learning some to high schools, some to Indian schools. All of the girls plan to enter Haskell Institute at Lawrence, Kansas in the fall. Commencement exercises include a salutatory, valedictory and oration on soils. Excellent music was furnished by the class and school pupils, and included a class song, violin, cornet and piano solos.

The address of the evening was delivered by Supl. Edgar A. Allen of the Menominee reservation, and embodied the necessity for education and service. Diplomas were presented to the class of seven graduates by Supl. L. M. Campbell of the Tomah school who has the distinction of having served a single school the longest time of any one in the Indian service.

Hot Summer Sun Trying On the Complexion

How to Protect Your Skin and Bring Roses to Your Cheeks

A Free Oatmeal Prescription Does Its Work Overnight. You Can Prepare It At Home

New York—Exposure to sun, dust and wind has a very bad effect upon the skin and complexion. It is my own discovery and takes just one night to get such marvelous results, says Miss Edna Wilder when her friends ask her about her wonderful complexion and the improved appearance of her hands and arms. "You can do the same thing if you follow my advice," she says. "I feel it my duty to tell every girl and woman what this wonderful prescription did for me. Just think of it. All this change in a single night. I never tire of telling others just what brought about such remarkable results. Here is the identical formula that removed every defect from my face, neck, hands and arms. Tell you try it you form no idea of the marvelous change it will make in just one application. The prescription, which you can prepare at your own home, is as follows:

"Go to any grocery store and get ten cents' worth of ordinary oatmeal, and from any department or drug store a bottle of Derwillo. Prepare the oatmeal as directed in every package of Derwillo. Before applying Derwillo, cleanse the skin thoroughly with a good cleansing cream (Liska cold cream I have found to be the best). The first application will astonish you. It makes the skin appear transparent, smooth and velvety. I especially recommend this method for dark, sallow skin, shiny nose, freckles, tan, sun spots, coarse pores, rough skin, redness, wrinkles, and, in fact, every blemish the face, hands and arms are heir to. If your neck or chest is discolored from exposure, apply this combination there and the objectionable defect will disappear as if by magic. It is absolutely harmless and stimulates a growth of hair. Since short sleeves are in vogue it is necessary to have beautiful hands and arms and no matter how rough and unsightly the hands and arms or what abuses they have had through hard work and exposure to sun and wind, this combination will work a wonderful transformation. Thousands who are using it report the same results I have had."

Miss O. C. says: "My complexion was poor and my skin rough. My neck, chest, hands and arms were dark from exposure. The very first application of this wonderful Derwillo-oatmeal combination convinced me that my poor complexion and skin blemishes would soon be a thing of the past. In a few weeks all these unsightly defects had entirely disappeared and I shall always use it to keep my complexion at its best all the time. I have recommended it to my girl friends and they are just as enthusiastic over it as I am. We all use it before going to the theater, dances or parties and it's wonderful what a difference it makes in our appearance."

Mrs. G. V. writes: "Oatmeal and Derwillo have worked miracles with my complexion. I had many deslaid wrinkles and a sallow, rough skin. My hands and arms were covered with freckles. After eight weeks' use of Miss Edna Wilder's wonderful complexion prescription these objectionable defects have entirely vanished. I look ten years younger, and advise every girl and woman to try it and feel confident after one or two applications they will use it continually and be just as favorably impressed with it as I am. I recommend it to all of my friends."

NOTE—To get the best effect, be sure to follow the complete directions contained in every package of Derwillo, and it is so simple that anyone can use it, and so inexpensive that any girl or woman can afford it. Department stores and druggists guarantee that there will be a noticeable improvement after the first application or they will refund the money. It is sold in this city at all toilet counters under a money refund guarantee, including Hoeschler Bros. and C. A. Ferguson.

AS CLEAR AS MUD

The man had just informed the Pullman agent that he wanted a Pullman berth.

"Upper or lower?" asked the agent. "What's the difference?" asked the man.

"A difference of fifty cents in this case," replied the agent. "The lower is higher than the upper. The higher price is for the lower. If you want it lower you'll have to go higher. We sell the upper lower than the lower. In other words, the higher the lower, most people don't like the upper, although it is lower on account of it being higher. When you occupy an upper you have to get up to go to bed and get down when you get up. You can have the lower if you pay higher. The upper is lower than the lower because it is higher. If you are willing to go higher, it will be lower." But the poor man faints!

UNDER THE CAPITOL DOME

Odds and Ends of State Affairs by William J. Anderson

MADISON, Wis.—The receipts and expenditures of the Wisconsin state government for the two-year period beginning July 1 will be about $63,000,000 each. They are expected to be substantially balanced, though there may be at the end of the biennium a small balance either way. The report given out last week by the joint committee on finance shows that it has allotted on finance substantially $45,000,000 for the biennium. This report naturally did not include the school tax which amounts to nearly three and one-half million a year, nor the return on automobile licenses of nearly an equal amount, nor the tax for highway construction. These added to the figures of the finance committee will bring the amount up to about $63,000,000 for the two years.

It must not be understood that the $63,000,000 represents the net cost of carrying on the state government for two years. There are numerous effects which materially reduce this. For example, the conservation commission, and the insurance department, both bring into the state treasury more than they cost. The railroad commission and the industrial commission also bring in large sums. Then the school tax is immediately distributed by apportionment to the various counties.

Some important modifications have been made by the present legislature in the child labor law. The most important is the raising of the educational requirements for regular child labor permits. While heretofore completion of the seventh grade, or attendance at school for eight years has been sufficient, the new law requires completion of the common school course or attendance at school for nine years. Another new law prohibits all newspaper advertising for the labor of children who are required to have regular permits, and all solicitation by paid agents of children in the school or homes to leave school to enter employment in any line of work for which a regular permit is required. This bill is aimed to prevent the wholesale solicitation of children to leave school, which is responsible for the fact that many thousands of children between 14 and 17 years of age are now both out of school and out of employment in Wisconsin. Another measure which has become law strikes out the requirement for permits for children who are employed in casual work around homes after school hours and during vacations of schools—work such as snow shoveling, mowing lawns and the care of babies. Technically, heretofore, permits have been required for such work, but the law in this respect has been a dead letter. Still another new law codifies and clarifies the provisions of the child labor law. At every session of the legislature this law has been amended, with the result that it has become patchwork. The new codification act strikes out contradictions and makes clear the meaning.

Substantially two miles a day, 12 miles a week, of concrete highway is being constructed in Wisconsin at the present time under the supervision of the state highway commission, while between five and seven miles a day of other forms of construction and surfacing is being completed. The engineering department of the highway commission has so organized its work forces that, under division engineers big projects in different portions of the state are being carried on simultaneously.

The prospect is that Mr. George Hambrecht, at present chairman of the industrial commission will be put at the head of the vocational school board, to succeed Mr. Callahan, who was elected state superintendent of public instruction. Mr. Hambrecht, who is a lawyer, has had ten years' experience as an educator.

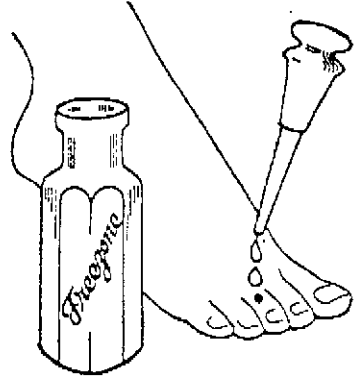

Chief Engineer First of the highway commission says: "The great mass of roads, even the most important roads, in the average state must wait several years before they can be rebuilt adequately. Why not recognize the fact and devote less state funds to construction and more to maintenance, not only of the inadequate road structures already built, but of the common earth roads as yet untouched. I know this is unorthodox, especially coming from a state highway engineer. For the next few years, if we have our way, Wisconsin is going to devote herself largely to maintenance and temporary grading, draining and surfacing."

Prof. C. P. Norgard, head of the state department of agriculture, made a startling statement concerning the spread of bovine tuberculosis in an address on Thursday at Fond du Lac. He said his department had records of cases where whole families of farmers were afflicted with tuberculosis after using for a long time period milk from infected cows. In another county the wife and daughter of a farmer died of tuberculosis, and the physician becoming suspicious had the farmer's herd of cows tested. Virtually every animal in the herd was found badly infected. In still other cases apparently the herd became infected through being cared for by infected men.

The whole gamut of activities conducted by the state board of health will be graphically portrayed for the benefit of the thousands of delegates and visitors to the national conference of social work, meeting in the Milwaukee auditorium, June 22-23. The medium will be an attract-o-scope, which will show 50 new slides illustrating concoits the varied forms of health work entrusted to the state department. Each branch of the department will have several slides telling of its functions and suggesting ways of citizens' co-operation that will help reduce the state's death rate and make Wisconsin a better place in which to live and work. Many of these activities are visualized by pictorial and chart representations, thus avoiding dry and uninteresting presentations of important facts, and leading to clear understanding of the state's health conditions and the endeavors made to better them.

BAD FOR THE RABBIT

The conjurer in the village school-room had invited any gentleman from the audience to step up on the platform, and a rustic in a velvet coat had responded.

"Now friend," said the conjurer, "I suppose you consider it a matter of impossibility for me to make the rabbit in that box on the table pass into your coat pocket?"

"I dunno about impossibility," was the reply, "but I wouldn't do it if I were you, sir."

"Oh, you'll be in no danger. I can assure you," said the sleight-of-hand man airily.

"I warn't thinking about myself," the rustic answered calmly. "I was studying the rabbit. I've got a couple of forelets in my pocket!"—Edinburgh Scotsman.

THE TEST OF A NUTMEG

Nutmegs, after being almost unobtainable for some years owing to the war, are now plentiful once more.

The value of a nutmeg as a flavoring condiment is entirely due to the oil which it contains. To test this oil that is necessary is to prick one of the nuts deeply with a pin in several places, then lay it on a piece of clean white blotting-paper.

If in proper condition it will give out sufficient oil to stain the paper deeply. Good nutmegs, in fact, if thus treated, will literally bleed to death; but those which are inferior will yield little or no oil.

Nutmegs are really not nuts at all, properly speaking, being in fact inferior seeds of a tropical fruit about the size of a large plum.

HOUSE PACKING BILL ACCEPTED BY SENATE IN PLACE OF ITS OWN

Secretary of Agriculture to Enforce the Law Under House Measure

PART OF BILL DRAWN BY PACKERS CHARGES "BOB"

Suggestions of Packers Incorporated Claims La Follette

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Seven of the most important provisions of the bill to regulate the packing industry which was passed by the house were the suggestions of the five great packing corporations, was the charge made in the senate on Thursday by Senator La Follette of Wisconsin. He exhibited a document which he stated was the original draft of the bill, and added that the interchanges were the written suggestions of the packers.

Mr. La Follette made his charge just before the senate voted on the proposition to substitute the bill drafted by senate committee on agriculture for the measure as it passed the house, but supporters of the house bill won 37 to 24, thirty-three republicans and four democrats voting for it.

Substitute Is Offered
Senator Sterling, South Dakota, offered a substitute for the house bill, and the senate adjourned until Friday, when the fight is expected to be renewed.

Under the house bill the secretary of agriculture is charged with enforcement of the law, while under the senate measure the enforcement is delegated to a livestock commissioner to be appointed by the president. Under the proposed Sterling substitute the administration is entrusted to the federal trade commission. The administrative features of the several bills comprise the most important differences.

Original Draft Shown
"I exhibit," exclaimed Senator La Follette as he waved a paper, in the air, "the original bill drafted in the house. The interchanges are by representatives of the packers, and although all suggestions made by the 'beef trust' were not accepted, seven of the most important of them were in the bill passed by the house. This original came into the possession of an official of the national alliance to whom it was handed by an attorney of the 'beef trust'."

Senator La Follette, whose speech was limited by the five minutes rule, did not identify the seven provisions which he asserted were suggestions favored by the packing corporations. It was said that he would probably make additional statements when the Sterling substitute is called for consideration.

ONE-MAN CARS, FARE BOOST ARE OPPOSED

The first opportunity and assailed the trolley company for the service they are giving and the kind of equipment they are using.

"It is a shame to even think of putting one-man cars on the north side. We will have more accidents if they do," declared Mr. Palmer. "They tried one-man cars in East St. Louis and had eleven accidents in a year as a result. This company hasn't eight miles of track in the city, including the Onalaska line and they say they can't operate without losing money. It is ridiculous."

"And there is no one here at this meeting to represent the company. Why isn't someone here? Why aren't they taking this meeting seriously? What's the matter with those fellows anyhow?"

"And another thing, I want to tell you about that Myrick Park line. I use those cars three and four times a day. I haven't an automobile like a lot of the silk stockings guys in this town so I have to use those old rattle-trap Myrick Park cars. Those cars are rotten. The seats are falling apart, the windows are on the bum, the steers hardly stay in the corners and they have hand brakes. And the cars won't stay on the tracks. They are getting off the rails every once in a while. And yet the company has the nerve to ask the right to put on more of the one-man cars and raise the fare. It's a shame. It's a shame; that's all I have to say. It's a shame."

The mayor asked Mr. Palmer just what he meant by saying "the Myrick Park cars were rotten" and this question brought out the fact that there are two cars on that line that are not equipped with air brakes but have to depend on the old style hand brakes. This surprised the mayor who said he did not know such old equipment was being used.

Swennes Figures Loss

City Attorney Swennes declared that cutting down the number of cars and raising the fares was not good service. He also declared that, according to the company's figures, he had figured their present loss at three-hundredths of one per cent per passenger. Mr. Swennes also urged the double tracking of the system out Main street from Twelfth street and from Seventh and Market streets out the Mormon Coulee road. Mayor Bentley declared switches should be laid across Main street at Third and Fourth streets so south side cars could cross Main street, continue out to Myrick Park and, coming back, could continue down Third street from Vine, thus eliminating two-way traffic on the single track on Main street from Third to Fourth street.

A race of 40,000 head hunting canibals said to be the smallest human beings, as a race, was recently discovered by an explorer in the New Hebrides.

ALIVE? YOU BET! HE'S ONLY 134

The other day, down in Washington, a sharp-eyed auditor for the United States interior department, noticed "John Smith, Shell Lake, Minn." had been on the Indian pension list for fifty years. "Aha!" said the auditor, and immediately wrote a letter to the United States attorney at Minneapolis. Was John alive? Or was some faker getting the money? John says he's alive! He's a Chippewa chief. Real name, Ka-Bo-Nah-Gwey-Wence. "Alive? Huh!" granted John, as the white men call him. "I'm only 134 years old!" A year ago John thought he was only 129. But there was an error in computing his age which cost him four years, he says.

CANADIAN GUIDE NOTIFIED OF BIRTH OF GUY STILLMAN

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y.—Testimony saying that Mrs. Anne U. Stillman, on the day that Guy Stillman was born directed her nurse to telegraph Fred Beauvais, in Montreal a message reading: "Little Brown Bear has arrived," was understood to have been introduced Friday in the suit brought by James A. Stillman, New York banker.

This testimony was given by Mary Olive Gilligan, who was the nurse at Guy's birth November 17, 1918, and she added that Mr. Stillman did not appear that day at the hospital where the infant was born.

PARTY CONVENTION BILL MEETS DEATH IN BADGER SENATE

Ingalls Measure Proposed Meeting of Party Delegates to Pick Candidates

MEASURE STRONGLY OPPOSED BY ADMINISTRATION FORCES

Bill Provides for Elimination of Minority Candidates

MADISON, Wis.—The Ingalls party convention bill, providing for a meeting of party delegates from every precinct in the state to select candidates and draw up a party platform, was killed in the senate Friday, 14 to 15. Amendment was first adopted requiring that the question be submitted to a referendum at the next general election.

Reconsideration of the vote by which the measure was killed was later moved by Senator Titus, and action laid over when Senator Huber said that he would move a call of the house if vote was attempted again Friday. The administration is strongly opposed to the proposal which would throw out minority candidates from receiving party recommendation.

Senator Kothke urged passage of the measure on the ground that the present party convention of candidates for office who gather to draw up a platform does not mean anything.

"The principle is entirely wrong," he said. "We now let the candidates draw the platform for the party, while the logical plan would be to have the party make the platform for the candidates."

Senator Huber attacked the proposed change as an attempt to restore party boss methods to state politics.

STATE PRINTERS MEET

MILWAUKEE, Wis.—The progress made by the Wisconsin State Franklin club and the Milwaukee Typothetae and the Wisconsin plan of education of employing printers and publishers was outlined by George J. Nash, president of the Franklin club, at the joint convention of the bodies here Friday.

Mr. Nash was followed by J. W. Strong, the club's field secretary, who elaborated on the Wisconsin plan and by J. G. Wallace, director of department field operations of the United Typothetae of America.

Reindeer Meat to Cut Costs

The high price of meat is to be met soon by the shipment to this country of quantities of reindeer meat from Alaska. A company has established a plant at Nome for handling twelve thousand carcasses a year. The meat can be sold profitably even though the freight rate $140 a ton to Minneapolis. The dressed carcass weighs about 150 pounds, but this could be increased to 300 pounds by cross-breeding with the caribou, a heavier animal. The reindeer sent into Alaska some time ago are multiplying faster than the needs of the country.

Where Submarines Are Weak

Because of the constructional conditions attending submarine design, according to Admiral Sir H. Bacon, a craft which navigates below water loses a large per cent of her surface fighting efficiency. Ton for ton, the fighting and scouting efficiency of a submarine is only about 15 per cent of that of the surface vessel. Sir George Owens, Thursday, naval director of Vickers, Limited, gives figures to show that a submarine of 3,450 tons, having a surface speed of 30 knots, could mount an armament of only one 5.5-inch and one 3-inch gun.

One of his tricks is to stick a lot of long-handled knives in the ground close together within the limits of a narrow circle, and bet with outsiders that he can ride past at race-horse speed and pick up with a rope any one knife designated.

STARTS TO ADVERTISE LA CROSSE GOODIES OVER NORTHWEST

The Montague advertising airplane which starts Saturday on a tour of the northwest. Men with the plane are W. R. Montague, president and general manager of the company, Erwin A. Stuckler, pilot, and William Donovan, mechanic.

Showers of "made-in-La Crosse" candies and cookies will shortly be literally rained on Wisconsin from the skies, with the start on Saturday from La Crosse of an advertising airplane representing the W. R. Montague Company of this city on a tour of the state and its neighbors which will occupy four or five months. The machine is due to get away at 10 o'clock Saturday morning for Viroqua on the first hop of its long trip. Viroqua, Prairie du Chien, Sauk Centre, Highland Center, Madison, Milwaukee and other prominent places in the state are to be visited on the trip, as well as cities in Iowa, Minnesota, North and South Dakota. In each place a consignment of candy is to be delivered to local dealers by the pilot, E. A. Stuckler of La Crosse, and the dealers will be offered flights in the machine. It is the plan to shower candy, cookies and advertising literature over each place that is passed by the plane as well as towns in which it stops to make deliveries.

The machine is the two-seated Curtiss "Flip" recently purchased by Pilot Stuckler. He will be accompanied on the whole tour by his mechanic William Donovan. The plane has been repainted with a big "La Crosse" between the upper wings, and with advertisements of the Montague products.

AN EDITORIAL ON ADVERTISING

There are about seven million automobiles in use in America today. In 1902 the approach of a motor car made passersby crane their necks and the incredulous to wonder what the world was coming to.

There are more than a hundred different makes of vacuum cleaners advertised for sale. Ten years ago the broom was still stirring up the dust which completely settled back until the next cleaning day, and the carpet sweeper was just receiving widespread recognition as a household emancipator.

Not so many years ago crackers were sold in bulk from wooden boxes and oatmeal from barrels. Today they are put up in hygienically sealed packages which keep them fresh and free from impurities.

The world has accepted all of these—and thousands of other innovations—in the most matter-of-fact fashion, scarcely realizing that such comforts and conveniences have not always been a part of life, and forgetting sometimes the means by which they have been made possible at so reasonable a cost.

It is advertising that has played such an important part in making life more livable.

It is advertising that has made possible the same high standard of living in every part of this broad land. There is no accessibility in California that are not at the command of people in Florida—and all by reason of the fact that advertising has spread the knowledge of them, has aided in their widespread distribution, and by increasing demand has increased production and lowered prices.

You will count your blessings with deeper appreciation if you think what life would mean without the things which advertising has made possible. You will realize just what an advantage it is to be able to pick up your newspaper each day and find out through the advertising news—

What you can buy.
What is best to buy.
Where you can buy it.
What you can save by knowing where to buy.

Best of all is the confidence with which you can buy advertised articles. Advertising pays only those merchants and manufacturers who make it their pledge of quality and value, and who stand back of every promise which the printed word makes.

Read the advertisements in this newspaper today—and every day. The news in the advertising columns, like the news in the other columns changes from day to day. You may fail to take advantage of some special exhibit advertised for today only, or you may miss some splendid buying opportunity which may not be available to-morrow.

The men and women who get the most in style quality and value for every dollar they spend are the ones who make it a part of every day's schedule to read the advertising, and to follow the buying suggestions which it gives them.

ASSEMBLY CONCURS IN SENATE CHANGE IN TEACHERS' BILL

Amendment Calling for Income Surtax to Finance Retirement Fund is Approved

MADISON, Wis.—The assembly placed the one million dollar teachers' retirement fund out of danger Friday when they concurred in the senate amendment calling for a one-sixth addition to the present income tax to raise funds for its financing.

Amendments offered by Assemblyman Dahl to increase the rate of the income tax to one-fifth of the present levy, and a raise in exemption rate from $3,000 to $5,000 was lost, 48 to 39. The senate amendment was then accepted, 55 to 31.

The retirement fund measure, providing pensions for common school, university and normal school instructors and professors now goes to the governor for his signature. It is expected that he will sign in view of the fact that the needed revenue will be raised from incomes.

Light was made in the assembly to increase the rates and raise the exemptions in order to place the burden of providing the one million dollars on those best able to pay it.

Opponents of the proposed increase won out, and left the senate amendment intact.

SALEM MAN TELLS OF ACCIDENT ON THE STATE ROAD

Says Machine Without Lights Struck His Car Standing on Side of Road

Edward F. Sprain, West Salem, son of George D. Sprain, declared on Friday that he was the driver of the Willys-Knight machine involved in the smash-up on the State road Wednesday evening. Harry Baird, driver of the Ford car which struck the larger machine, crashed into the Sprain car while running without lights, he declared.

Sprain said that he and three companions in the machine were just starting the motor to begin their trip home to Salem, 20 minutes after midnight, when the Baird machine without warning, struck them from the rear. The lights were on, Sprain asserted, including the tail-light, and the car was on the right side of the road, half-way off the paving. Baird refused offers to take him to the hospital, after he had been injured in the smash-up, Sprain said, and they finally left him with his machine and drove the Willys-Knight to the Cliff, wood inn to leave it, since it was not in good shape to travel after the smash.

The Ford was later in the evening struck by a Reo driven by Oscar Seynesby.

Baird and the Sprain party were later taken back to La Crosse by Sheriff Miller, who had been phoned word of the accident by Sprain. None of the Sprain party were injured. Blood on the car, Sprain said, came from Baird's cuts. Sprain asserted that all the wearing apparel found in the car belonged to his mother and sister.

Protests Being Made to Government Over Treatment of Wounded Soldiers

LONDON.—American soldiers who complain that the government does not properly take care of disabled veterans of the great war probably are in no worse a fix than some of the Portuguese, who similarly suffered and whose behalf indignant protests are being made to the Portuguese government.

The greatest indignation has been caused here by the discovery that wounded soldiers had been discharged from a government institution with an allowance equivalent to about 30 cents a day.

Finding themselves destitute, the exiles had decided to form a union and beg alms in the streets of Lisbon but they were induced not to do this by promises that their case would be presented to parliament and complaint would be made against the action of the war office. Subscriptions were taken up for them.

All the leading newspapers joined in the agitation and one of them stated that if the government did not properly aid disabled men they would be formed into a procession to march through the streets begging for alms.

As showing the distress of some of the men who fought for Portugal in the great war the Imprensa says that one soldier nearly blind is still wearing the spectacles given to him by the Germans, that another is wearing a wooden leg given by the French and another is trying to support a wife and three children on his allowance of 35 cents a day.

On the other hand, the war minis-

BIBLE PAGEANT TO BE REPEATED ON NEXT SUNDAY

The Bible pageant, which closed the church school programs at First Presbyterian church last Sunday evening, will be repeated this coming Sunday. This is done by request of parents who were in attendance and for the benefit of others who could not be present.

The theme, "Heroes of Faith," was elaborated through ten episodes, or pantomimes, including many of the familiar stories from both the Old and New Testament, together with appropriate musical settings. Miss Dorothy Woods as Queen Esther, was a pleasing soloist, in the court scene from Bradbury's cantata by this name. William Voss, impersonating the Apostle Paul before King Agrippa, held close attention by his earnest manner and distinct utterance. Miriam's chorus, led by Virginia Shaver, opened the procession with Exell's adaptation of Psalm 103; from Donizetti's "Lucia."

Each episode was costumed and

ATTEMPT TO REVIVE SURTAX ON INCOMES IN THE ASSEMBLY

Idea Killed in Senate to be Resurrected in Connection With School Bill

CLAIM THAT DEADLOCK WILL FOLLOW PASSAGE IN HOUSE

Amendments Would Raise Half of Funds for Normal and "U"

MADISON, Wis.—The income surtax idea, brought most prominently before the present session of the legislature, through the Severson bill, did not die out with the killing of that measure in the senate Wednesday.

Strong forces are being brought to bear in the assembly for support of amendments to the university and normal school bills establishing the surtax as the principal means of raising revenues for support of these institutions during the next two years.

Similar proposals in the senate by Senator Severson after defeat of his original tax bill were defeated by a margin of four votes. Claim is made that there is sufficient strength in the assembly to force passage. This move might bring about a deadlock between the two houses if successful.

The plan to be offered calls for a one per cent tax on all incomes of $6,000 or over and graduated up to three per cent on all incomes of 12,000 or more, for financing the university and a somewhat smaller program for normal schools.

The amendments to be offered will raise approximately one-half of the appropriation to be granted the university and normal schools. Remaining funds would come from the general property of the state as at present.

There is a distinct feeling among many members of the lower house that the higher educational institutions of the state should be largely financed by the taxpayers with large incomes. It was this opinion that caused the assembly to tack a surtax on the teachers' retirement and pension fund.

While not opposed by the university officials believe that the surtax is not stable enough to afford a really acceptable method of raising revenue to support the institutions whose expenses are fixed.

The surtax principle has already received a trial as part of the educational bonus law, where its operation has brought in sufficient funds to care for the application of that measure.

Argument is advanced that with falling incomes it is a poor time to venture into any experiments with a surtax, especially when a definite amount of money is needed.

WRITER CALLS UPON HARDING TO MAKE KNOWN HIS PLANS FOR A NEW WORLD LEAGUE

NEW YORK.—Hamilton Holt, magazine editor who headed the delegation of progressive republicans that called on President Wilson during the last presidential campaign, Thursday made public a letter he had written President Harding asking him to explain to the American people the terms of the Harding Association proposed to supplant the Wilson league of nations.

"If you delay much further, people everywhere will inevitably conclude that you have no concrete plan at all, else that you propose to put party harmony above world welfare," declared Mr. Holt. "In that event there will be nothing left for those who want America to play her rightful part in stabilizing the world but to organize the country so as to capture congress for the league in 1922 and presidency in 1924."

This, Mr. Holt, asserted, could be done. He declared that the league of nations and bolshevism were the only great ideas that had come out of the war as world panacea, and asked the president whether he could guarantee that the world would not turn to bolshevism if it can be guaranteed that he had no plan at all for the substitute of the league of nations.

Mr. Holt, a member of the League to Enforce Peace, took a hand in the last presidential campaign by making public a list of 100 republicans who had joined the Harding ranks. The text of the letter says:

"It is now six years that the league of nations issue has been before the country. It is now two years that you as senator, presidential candidate, president-elect, and president, have had the league of nations issue officially before you."

"As senator, you voted to have the United States enter the existing league provided the Lodge amendments were made part of that act of ratification."

"As presidential candidate you left the country and even your own followers in doubt as to your attitude. Thirty-one prominent republicans—among whom were your secretary of state, Mr. Hughes, and your secretary of commerce, Mr. Hoover—assured their fellow countrymen that you would go into the existing league. Senators Borah and Johnson and the other 'irreconcilables' assured them you would not."

"As president-elect you did not see fit to disclose your attitude on the league beyond what you had said during the campaign. Both the 'thirty-one' and the 'irreconcilables' claimed you for their own."

"As president, however, you have unequivocally repudiated the existing league of nations, whose area comprises considerably more than half of the earth and whose population numbers three-quarters of the human race. You even permitted without rebuke your ambassador at the court of St. James to say that you will have nothing to do with any 'commission or committee appointed by the league or responsible to it directly or indirectly, openly or furtively.'"

"You have, nevertheless, as presidential candidate, repeatedly promised during the campaign, and as president you have reiterated that promise, that you will seek to establish an association of nations based upon the application of justice and right, binding us in conference and co-operation for the prevention of war and pointing the way to a higher civilization and international fraternity in which all the world might share."

"You have not yet given the American people the slightest inkling of your colleagues blocked Mr. Wilson, the terms of this Harding Association, that you propose shall supplant the Wilson league. Has not the time come, I respectfully ask, for you to do this. Surely you cannot expect the forty-eight members of the present league to scrap it and come into your association unless two things are perfectly clear:

"First, that the new association is substantially as good as, or better than the existing league, and,

"Second, that this time a proposal of a president of the United States will have the permanent and overwhelming support of the American people."

"You are a statesman of sufficient experience to know that our people will not support your association—no matter how excellent—without the fullest preliminary discussion. Events of the last two years have demonstrated this. You cannot, therefore, hope to get public opinion behind your association without taking your countrymen into your confidence."

"Even if your own party were completely united on the issue, you would still have to get some democratic support to assure the ratification of your association by two-thirds of the senate. As your party was the one that first made the league a party issue, the democratic senators would be only human now if they turned the tables and also made your association a party issue. They control more than a third of the votes in the senate and they can block you as you and can people the slightest inkling of your colleagues blocked Mr. Wilson, the terms of this Harding Association, that you propose shall supplant the support, it is incumbent upon you to propose an association so concrete and effective as to commend itself to the enlightened sense of both parties. Therefore, the quicker you take the American people into your confidence the better."

"There is another and even more important reason why you should disclose the details of your plan at once. The world is on the brink of revolution, famine and pestilence. The only two great ideas that have come out of this war as world panacea are the league of nations and bolshevism. If you repudiate the existing league and delay too long suggesting anything in its place you run the very real risk of making the world believe you have no plan at all and if that comes to be generally believed can you guarantee that the world would not turn to bolshevism?"

"Mr. President, the time has come for you to redeem your promises. The country and the world have waited long enough to know just what kind of an association of nations you have in mind. If you delay much further people everywhere will conclude that either you have no concrete plan at all or else that you propose to put party harmony above world welfare. In that event there will be nothing left for those who want America to play her rightful part in stabilizing the world, but to organize the country so as to capture congress for the league in 1922 and the presidency in 1924. This can be done for the vast majority of the American people—republicans as well as democrats—want the United States to enter some sort of a league or association with enough teeth in it definitely to hasten the day when as Victor Hugo prophesied, 'The only battlefield will be the market opening to commerce and the mind opening to new ideas.'"

Petersen's Ointment Co., Inc., Buffalo, N. Y. Dear Sirs: I was afflicted with what the doctors said were Varicose Ulcers and up until about five weeks ago I have been treating them for about a year and five months. With all the treatments that were prescribed to me by several doctors I received little benefit, and they kept spreading and gave me much distress and caused me to quit my work. I was induced by a brother-in-law to try Petersen's Ointment, and after I had used two boxes I saw the wonderful results. You can tell suffering ones troubled with ugly, painful and horrid ulcers that your Ointment is a cure for them when everything else fails, as I have tried about everything. Thanking you many times over I am, your happy friend, Chas. J. Heyser, Battle Creek, Mich., 42 Glenwood Avenue, January 12, 1916. # DIVORCE IS ASKED FROM HUSBAND NOW IN STATE'S PRISON

Vivian Mittelbach Walters
Charges Man With Storing Stolen Goods in Home

Another step toward dispelling the love romance that was begun in the work shop of the rubber mills—a step toward the divorce court—was made today by Mrs. Vivian Mittelbach Walters when she filed a complaint in divorce proceedings against Wilhelm or William Walters.

On February 17, last Walters was sentenced to a year in Waupun, by County Judge Brindley after he pleaded guilty to a charge of storing material from the rubber mills. The summons and complaint in the divorce proceedings were served on him in prison by the warden.

Vivian Mittelbach was 18 and Walters was 40 when they were married November 24, 1920. Both worked in the rubber mills. They became acquainted and this acquaintance gradually ripened into love.

However, in her divorce complaint Mrs. Walters declares that her husband after their marriage treated her cruelly and "continued a course of stealing and the illegal manufacture of liquor and made use of their home as a storage place for stolen goods and for the manufacture and storage of moonshine and that he threatened her with death if she revealed any of his illegal doings."

NEW SPECIES OF BUG DISCOVERED IN SOUTH

Xylotodoris Luteolus. Never Before
seen in U. S. Found in Florida

MIAMI, Fla.—"Entomologists" here have discovered a new bug, one not uncommon in the tropics but, according to G. P. Moenette, entomologist in charge of the federal experiment station here, one never before seen in the United States. It is the Xylotodoris Luteolus and the visitor has journeyed all the way from Cuba to sample the quality of the tender shoots of the Royal Palm here.

Because it is a "sucking" insect and feeds upon the leaflets of the trees Mr. Moenette considers the bug an undesirable citizen and war already has been declared. The defendants are attempting to repel the invader with a spray composed of one part of nicotine sulphate and 1,200 parts of water. The insect is yellow and an adult specimen is about one-half inch in length.

"This is the first record of a Xylotodoris Luteolus in this country," said Mr. Moenette. "The insect was recently described in Cuba by Barber, with the host plant given as Oreodoxa. Its identity was determined by Hubert Osborn, of the Ohio State University. Until it was found here last year none was aware of its existence in this country. It makes the new, small shoots of the Royal Palm trees dry up and look unsightly."

TRUE LOVE MAKES US HUNGRY

Any emotion that gives pleasure acts healthily on the heart and other organs, the circulation becomes more brisk, and appetite and health improve. Love, hope and happiness all produce these emotions and, contrary to the accepted notion, the ardent lover ought to enjoy his meals thoroughly.

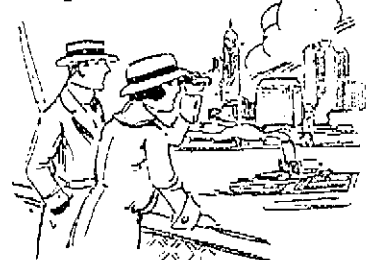

Despair, grief and fear have quite another effect. They make the action of the heart slower, and enfeeble the nervous and muscular systems, often upsetting the digestion as well. Anger causes the heart to act violently, working upon both physical and mental powers. The muscles for the time being are taut and tense, and the secretion of bile is increased. A reaction follows rapidly, when muscles become flabby and a feeling of weakness pervades the body.

The U. S. Bureau of Animal Industry has developed a vaccine which is a safeguard against hog cholera.

THE WORLD'S RICHEST BRIDE WILL HAVE SIMPLE WEDDING

JUST A QUIET WEDDING

THEN A HONEYMOON IN THE EAST

AND PROBABLY A TRIP TO EUROPE.

LOLITA ARMOUR, WHO SPURNS EXTRAVAGANCE

By R. J. GIBBONS

CHICAGO.—"I want my marriage to be a lucky one."

This, says Miss Lolita Armour, the world's richest bride, is her reason for wishing a quiet wedding with comparatively little expense and no elaborate gowns. She is the daughter of J. Ogden Armour, the multimillionaire packer. On June 18 she will become the bride of John J. Mitchell, Jr.

A few years ago she was a crippled child. A surgeon's skill saved her from going through life under this handicap. At Melrose Farm, Lake Forest a wealthy suburb near here, she told me that her fiance would be made of "left-overs," and that her wedding gown would be just a "simple little thing of white velvet" costing less than $200.

"I believe that extravagance is sinful," she went on. "To me it's perfectly absurd for girls to squander their money on an extravagant bridal attire. And no good luck comes from it, either."

"My whole outfit will be very inexpensive. Moreover I'm not going to wear a single jewel—that is, unless I have to."

"And, oh yes, I will wear a little cap fashioned from lace from my mother's wedding gown. It has no intrinsic value; just sentiment, that's all."

"You see, marriage is a serious affair, and people should realize that it is. Why should I lavish money on myself, when there is so much misery in the world? The money could be used for better purpose. And then you wear a wedding gown only once, starting out safely a man and wife have a better chance. If I were to lavish a small fortune on my trousseau and gown, memory would bring only regrets to me later on."

"It would be pure selfishness and nothing else. I don't believe selfish people are ever lucky or happy. And that's what I want to be—happy. Dress suit is a good way to begin."

And so this girl with multiplying millions, who could buy all the finery of Paris if she chose, has disappointed Chicagoans who were looking forward to a marriage amid regal splendor.

Only intimate friends—about 50 of them—were to be invited to the wedding. It'll be held indoors at 3 o'clock in the afternoon.

After that there'll be a two week's honeymoon in the east and probably a trip to Europe.

Then the couple is coming back to Chicago to "keep house."

KING AND QUEEN OF RUMANIA WILL BE CROWNED NEXT FALL

September 24 Set as Date for Coronation of Ferdinand and Marie

ALBA JULIA, Transylvania—King Ferdinand and Queen Marie of Rumania will be crowned here September 24. Plans are now being made for the erection of a church for use in the religious service of the coronation and in memory of the great battles which brought Greater Rumania into being. The church, it is expected, will serve for the crowning of all future kings of Rumania.

On the outskirts of this little Saxon town, where five hundred years ago Michael the Brave, Rumania's George Washington, won a victory over the Hungarians, a monumental arch, with reliefs commemorating events in Rumanian history, will be erected.

On the coronation day, after a service at the new church, at which all the Rumanian bishops will be present, the king and queen, crowned, will proceed to the new triumphal arch, where there will be a great military pageant.

In the afternoon and evening there will be gala entertainments, including a banquet in the hall in which the union of Transylvania with Rumania was proclaimed in December, 1918.

The next day the sovereigns will arrive in Bucharest and make a triumphal entry into the Rumanian capital. Here also an arch will be erected to commemorate the day for future generations.

King Ferdinand and Queen Marie have occupied the Rumanian throne nearly seven years, having succeeded the late King Carol in October of 1914; but on account of the war they never were formally crowned.

It is expected that soon after the coronation the king and queen will visit the United States.

OBSERVATIONS OF HIGHER REGIONS

The United States weather bureau is particularly anxious to be placed in a position of being able to forecast the West Indian hurricanes, which come our way with great frequency at certain seasons of the year. For this purpose it has carried out a program of upper-air observations in order to determine what relation, if any, exists between the "winds aloft" (as winds in the upper-air are now called by the bureau) and the movements of hurricanes. Pilot-balloon observations have been made twice a day at stations maintained by the bureau at Key West and at San Juan, Porto Rico, and at stations maintained by the navy at Colon and Santo Domingo; while the data obtained at the weather bureau and army aerological stations in Texas are expected to help in the investigation of this subject. While the chief purpose of the undertaking was to aid in the important work of forecasting West Indian hurricanes, the discussion of the observations will probably furnish much desired information concerning the normal circulation of the atmosphere in the West Indian region.

American Supplies Proving
Boon to French Housewives

PARIS—The vast stock of canned foods left in France by the American army and now being sold to the public is proving a boon to the French housewife.

She is now able to go to her usual grocery store and buy canned goods—really canned in America, and containing labels in real English—at a price which is sometimes 300 per cent cheaper than the same variety of food canned by the French.

String beans, salmon, tuna fish, corned beef, potted ham, combinations of vegetables and meat of various kinds and many others are now obtainable from the stock of things the American army left behind and sold to the French government.

Many of these things, pork and beans, for instance, were virtually unknown to the French until the American army came to France. All are products of the best known American packers and it is striking that the average French housewife says American canning methods are better than the French.

NO CHANGES TO BE MADE IN WISCONSIN STATE COMMISSIONS

Legislature Turns Down Plan for Elimination of Five Boards

MADISON, Wis. — Administrative boards and commissions will remain in their present form for another two years as a result of the legislature's refusal to accept any of the special committee recommendations calling for consolidation or elimination of five existing administrative agencies.

Bills calling for abolition of the state board of education and the state board of vocational education have been killed, along with bills covering recommendations to change the state commission and the civil service commission to one man departments.

The change of the civil service commission to a one man department has been accepted by the assembly but has almost sure death in the upper house where the fight is to be made if necessary.

The special legislative committee will not recommend that a special efficiency expert be provided for the legislature to study changes that might be made in the governmental agencies. Had their report been favorably received by both houses, this proposal would have been advanced.

PURCHASE OF TWO SITES FOR PARKS IS RECOMMENDED

Committee Reports Favorably on Northern Lakes and Dells Projects

MADISON, Wis. — The Northern Lakes park and the Dells of the Wisconsin river were recommended as state parks by the joint finance committee in a report to the legislature Friday morning. The two proposals carry an aggregate expenditure of $250,000.

Most favorable consideration is being given the Northern Lakes project, which calls for an appropriation of $250,000 to purchase 8,000 acres of virgin timber land and 2,000 acres of lakes in Sawyer and Iron counties.

Bills calling for state purchase of these sites will be acted on Saturday or early next week.

The committee also reported out for passage the Nye bill allowing thirty thousand dollars to county planning committees to establish parks along highways.

GENSAN IDENTIFIED AS MAN WHO HELD UP THE OLD STYLE INN

Six Witnesses in Saloon at Time are Positive in Accusations Against Suspect

That Herman Gensan, bound over to circuit court for trial, is the man who robbed the Old Style Inn of $120 at the point of a gun June 7, was the testimony of six witnesses before County Judge Brundley, Thursday afternoon.

Gensan was not called on the stand but maintained the plea of not guilty, entered by his attorney, Fred H. Barwell, at the hearing a week ago. Gensan was bound over to circuit court for trial on $5,000 bail. No indication regarding the lines of defense to be employed on the part of the defendant's attorney was given.

Six witnesses on the stand, those who were held at the point of the gun when the robbery was committed, testified that Gensan is the man who did the "job."

"TAG DAY" IN THE NORTH SEA

The British minister of agriculture and fisheries in liberating from selected stations in the North sea, considerable numbers of "drift bottles" (of the ordinary soda water type) which contain a request to the finder to break the bottle and to post the card enclosed as directed thereon, a small reward being paid to the sender. Many of these bottles may be found floating on the surface of sea; others are so adjusted that they are to be found near the bottom; there are frequently brought up in trawl. Either kind may sometimes be found washed up on the seashore. From the data obtained by putting out these bottles, much valuable information regarding ocean drifts and the movements of floating fish eggs can be gathered. The fisheries department is also responsible for experiments with marked plaice and other fish. A small remote drier bearing a distinctive number is affixed to the fin of the fish and should it be captured, its migration and growth can be determined readily.

Explosives to Place Ship's Bolts
In the performance of some government work it was found necessary to find a bolt or manner of placing a bolt so that it would withstand unusually high shearing stresses and two successful methods were devised. In order to make an absolutely faultless fit of the bolt in the first case the bolts were immersed in liquid air until they contracted sufficiently to enter the holes quite easily, but when they had gained their normal temperature again they expanded to such an extent that the hole was filled. The other scheme consisted of making a small hole along the axis of the bolt and after it had been placed the hole filled with explosive and when this was discharged the bolt was expanded and caused to grip the plates. Subsequent tests proved that each of these methods filled the usual demands.

The world's demands would all go in a box making an eight-foot cube.

AT THE RIVOLI
Douglas MacLean, the young Thomas H. Ince star in Paramount pictures, appeared to excellent advantage in "The Rookie's Return," his latest starring vehicle, which was shown to an enthusiastic audience at the Rivoli theatre last night. The story deals with the trials of an American doughboy who on his return from France finds it difficult to adjust himself to his new environment especially after he comes into a fortune and has to deal with the servant problem. Doris May who plays opposite the star heads a clever supporting company. There are many humorous situations all of which will be heartily enjoyed.

Robe Ruth swings a mighty bat, but he never plucked a huge marble column out of the main hall of the Sultan of Turkey's harem to drive out a home run.

There have been some frightful blunders made by deer hunters in this country, but none of them can compare with the mistake of the Viennese comedian who shot at an ostrich and nearly killed the entire Turkish army.

Several mighty hunters have been clawed by lions, but few have had their hair combed by the king of beasts without suffering the slightest physical injury.

Many strange and wonderful and laughable things occur in "The Sportsman," a Larry Semon comedy which is being shown at the Rivoli theatre.

"GIRL WITH JAZZ HEART"—RIVIERA

That the noble red man was not particularly noble to his squaw is the interesting recollection of William Walcott, who plays in the Goldwyn production, "The Girl with the Jazz Heart," starring Madge Kennedy and which plays at the Riviera today and Saturday. Mr. Walcott began his stage experience 35 years ago, with a travelling repertory company in the west. "Our audiences," says Mr. Walcott, were mostly made up of men. Frequently we played for Indians. The braves would arrive at the ticket-office with their squaws, and proceed to enter, but the ladies were left to hush, muse and meditate outside. Their husbands were still dressed, then, in their original costumes, and not in the make-shift garments of civilization which so many of them wear today. Sometimes the braves would sit in the audience with paint on their cheeks and feathers waving from their heads."

"SOCIETY SECRETS"—STRAND

Are you ashamed of your parents? If you are, see "Society Secrets" at the Strand today and Saturday. The story deals with young folks who are embarrassed because their old parents do not know the manners which society people think are necessary to good breeding. Eva Novak, as the beautiful star of this Universal production, educates the old folks and teaches the young ones a lesson.

HOME TALENT PICTURE—CASINO

The made-in-La Crosse comedy photoplay, "Can You Beat It?" will be shown for the last time today at the Casino. The picture will then move to the Strand for a Saturday and Sunday showing which will close its run in this city. Crowds that taxed the capacity of the Casino Thursday afternoon and night greeted the first day's run. The indications are that today will see even a greater attendance. Pearl White in "The White Moll," a crook play, and a comedy "The Parcel Post Husband" also are on today's program.

Feeding the Students of Princeton

Six and a half barrels of potatoes are eaten every day and these are peeled by an electric machine which takes care of six bushels an hour. Sugar to the amount of 200 pounds a day disappears before this army. Besides this there are quantities of fruit and vegetables.

CALEDONIA COPS FROM NELSONS IN TWILIGHT GAME

Timely Clouting and Errors on Part of Locals Enables Gophers to Win, 10-2

WORK OF VISITING PITCHER FEATURE OF THE GAME

"Ducky" Smith Connects With Hit for Three Bases

TIMELY clouting, coupled with errors on the part of the Nelsons, enabled the strong Caledonia aggregation to emerge with a 10 to 2 victory in the twilight game at Copeland park Thursday night. It was decidedly an off day for the local club, many easy plays resulting in errors.

Although forcing a run in the second inning when three men were passed after Freng's single, Jaeger pitched wonderful ball for the visitors, being credited with thirteen strikeouts and allowing the home team but four scattered hits off his speedy ball.

Ill, who was relieved in the box by Lottes after the seventh inning, struck out six men and with poor support allowed as many scores during his session on the mound. Four men crossed the plate in the eighth and ninth innings as a result of five hits garnered off the delivery of Lottes.

"Ducky" Smith connected with the feature drive of the game in the sixth inning for three bases.

Forced Run
The Nelsons started the scoring of the game in the second inning, when Freng led off with a neat single. He advanced to second and was forced to third as Wall and Shaffer were allowed to walk. Litter and Ill each were dropped at the plate and Klunrud waited and got a walk, forcing Freng to the plate. The side was retired when Johnson struck out.

Three hits in succession, coupled with four errors on the part of Nelson fielders, was directly responsible for the four tallies counted by the visitors in their half of the third frame. Gengler was struck out. Krueger was safe at first when the ball, fielded by Schaffer, passed through Wall's mit on the first sack. Krueger was again safe at second on Jaeger's grounder to short when Johnson errored in an attempt to catch the runner at the halfway mark.

Following in close succession with another drive by Till into center field which Klunrud was unable to get under, the visitors counted the first run as Krueger crossed the plate. Quail grounded to third and an overture to home in an attempt to nip Jaeger, netted in his scoring, followed by Till. Quail went to second on the play and scored the fourth tally on Merlo's single. Whentzen grounded to third and Merlo was caught on the line. Meyer singled and the prosperous inning for the Gophers ended as Haus fouled out at home.

Visitors Score a Double
The visitors pulled a double play in the fourth inning which drew a burst of applause from the stands. Smith got a base when he was hit by a pitched ball and advanced to third. Freng grounded to short and the ball was snapped to third, catching Smith, and to first for the batter in apparently less than no time, retiring the side.

The visitors scored once in the fourth inning. Gengler was fielded out at first by Ill. Krueger sent a high fly to center and Klunrud got the "razz" from the stands when he came in slow telling the ball drop immediately in front of his shoes. The locals missed a chance for a double on the next play when Shaffer muffed Jaeger's grounder, catching only the runner at first. Till followed with a single, driving Krueger to the plate for the one out of the inning. Quail singled but died on the bag when Merlo was out at first.

Feature Drive
The feature drive of the game came in the sixth inning, when Smith connected squarely with a speedy groove over the pan for three bases. Freng and Wall struck out. Jaeger to score, "Ducky" led off third on a passed ball at the plate and scored when hit in the attempt of the visitors to catch him on the third base line.

Eden's pretty hunt in the seventh with three men on resulted in the single score of the inning. Haus was struck out. Jaeger fouled out at first and Till was dropped at the plate with the bases full.

Two singles and a sacrifice in the eighth netted another to the Caledonia list, and in the ninth, the local was brought up to ten. Eden sent a fast drive which was stopped by the umpire and Jaeger singled, advancing the runner to third. Jaeger went to second and Eden scored as Thake muffed the pop from short. A timely single by Quail, brought in two additional runs, making the total of ten.

LEADING ATHLETES FROM MANY COLLEGES MEET AT STAGG FIELD FRIDAY AFTERNOON FOR ELIMINATION TRYOUTS IN TRACK MEET

CHICAGO, Ill.—Leading athletes from dozens of colleges and universities in every section of the country, Friday gathered at Stagg field for elimination tryouts in the National Collegiate Athletic association track and field meet, the first event of its kind with so large a national representation ever held in the United States, with the exception of Olympic games.

With 237 athletes entered tryouts in every event were arranged for late today. Every event drew from 15 to more than forty contestants, 41 men being entered in the 100-yard dash this year.

Although most schools sent only one or two men, only world, national or conference champions being selected, there are several schools with a sufficient number of high caliber entries to give them a strong chance for team honors. Washington state, University of Washington, Illinois, Notre Dame, Texas A&M, Nebraska, Wisconsin, Michigan, Amherst and the University of the South, are some of these.

The meet is the first held by the National Collegiate Athletic association, and it is planned to make it an annual event, limiting the entries to champions and thus making it the American Olympics.

Eighty netted another to the Caledonia list, and in the ninth, the local was brought up to ten. Eden sent a fast drive which was stopped by the umpire and Jaeger singled, advancing the runner to third. Jaeger went to second and Eden scored as Thake muffed the pop from short. A timely single by Quail, brought in two additional runs, making the total of ten.

MRS. OTTO LOEFFLER DELIGHTFUL HOSTESS AT BIRTHDAY PARTY

MRS. OTTO LOEFFLER, who is noted for the delightful birthday celebrations she shares with her friends each year, on Wednesday again entertained the usual group at her home, 1603 Main street, in compliment to the anniversary. The rooms were unusually beautiful for this occasion. Featuring the large table in the dining room was a large blue Austrian glass bowl filled with Columbia roses and upon the small tables, which were scattered about the rooms, were small vases of these roses. In the hall were carnations and in the other rooms mixed flowers were used to beautify.

Mrs. Loeffler was showered with handsome gifts, among them a very large basket containing a variety of vegetables, an unusual but very attractive offering, and indeed quite artistic in appearance. It was presented by Mr. Adolph Kohlhaas, who read a very clever letter descriptive of the edibles. The donors were Mr. and Mrs. Kohlhaas, Mesdames Henry Frankson, Frank Schweib, Sr., George Linker and Fred Paulson. Thirty-five ladies were entertained in the afternoon. In the evening Mrs. Loeffler entertained at dinner in compliment to her husband, when places were laid for twelve men. Mr. Kohlhaas was the toastmaster and presided with dignity, the guests enjoying a very merry time. The hostess also received many messages of congratulation and happy wishes for joyous returns of the day. Mrs. Loeffler was assisted by Mrs. Frank Schweib, Sr., and the Mesdames Louise and Dorothy Smith.

AT THE HOME of Mrs. George Osterhout, 1427 Wood street, Wednesday night, the officers of Ruth chapter, No. 23, Order of Eastern Star, entertained in honor of Miss Gertrude Jagham, a bride of next week. A handsome cut glass bowl was presented to the honor guest. Refreshments were served from a daintily dressed table, when places were laid for eighteen.

THE LADIES' AID society of the Franciscan Free church, Fifteenth and Vinabago streets, will be entertained at the church parlors Thursday evening by Miss T. Korn and Mrs. H. Gunderson. Rev. C. Myrdahl of Milwaukee and A. Wolf of Dawson, Minn., will be the speakers and will give. Mr. P. Hanson of Staten Island, N. Y., will also give vocal numbers.

MRS. CAREY and daughter, Jeanette, have returned to Milwaukee after a visit with Mrs. Carey's sister, Miss Grace Cameron.

MISS ROSEMARY VOLZ, who is attending a vocal studio at Milwaukee, has arrived home to spend her vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Volz, 624 South Seventh street.

THE UNITED SPANISH WAR veterans were royally entertained by their auxiliary at the court house quarters on the evening of June 14. Flag day. The ladies surprised the group by quietly arranging a sumptuous spread in the lobby, while the camp was in session. Commander Thomas H. Bailey acted as toastmaster and called upon several of the comrades present for remarks. The occasion proved to be an enjoyable affair both from the standpoint of "eat" and entertainment.

THE ANNUAL picnic of the children of the Royal Neighbors will be held at Myrick park on Saturday afternoon. All members with their families are invited to attend and to bring baskets of luncheon.

MR. AND MRS. John Schoen, 1108 South Fifth street, are the parents of a daughter born Tuesday morning, June 14.

JEROME RISTEY, who has been attending St. Thomas college, made a brief visit with his aunt, Miss Abbie L. Becker, on his way to his home at Ashford, Minn.

MRS. N. F. SALTZ will entertain at her home, 1815 Loomis street, the meeting of the Woman's Auxiliary of the St. Peter's Episcopal church on next Tuesday afternoon. All the members are urged to be in attendance as it is the closing session of the year.

MISS HAZEL STUTTSMAN, one of the La Crosse Normal graduates, has left for Benton Harbor, Mich.

MRS. L. W. MELCHER and children left Wednesday for De Soto, Minn., to visit Mrs. Melcher's mother, Mrs. M. V. West. In two weeks Mr. Melcher will join his family for a motor trip to Illinois, where they will be guests at the home of Mr. Melcher's mother. Following this they will go to Oshkosh where they will reside.

MISS EUTALIA SPRAIN and Mr. Arnold Pullar of West Salem were married at St. John's Lutheran church at Horro Mills Wednesday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. H. Paulstian. The bride was attended by Miss Vera Young and Mr. Herman Lushington was the best man.

At the bride's old home, now the residence of Mr. Edwin Sprain, a three-course wedding dinner was served to about forty immediate relatives. The color scheme throughout the house was carried out in pink and white.

The bride was prettily attired in white organdy and carried a shower of orchids and sweet peas. The bridesmaid was dressed in blue organdy and carried pink carnations. The out of town guests were Mr. and

EYE-STRAIN OF THE MOVIES

The members of the Illuminating Engineering Society of England recently appointed a committee to investigate the subject of eye-strain caused by watching moving pictures. This committee found the chief strain on the eyes comes from the pictures being shown too high up, so that the eyes of the spectators in the front rows have to be raised.

It recommends that the height of a picture on the screen be such that the angle formed by lines from the bottom of the top and the center of the bottom to the eye of a spectator in the front row be not greater than 35 degrees. In many of the London cinemas the angle exceeds 60 degrees.

THE SIGNIFICANCE OF THE SEVEN

It seems that the number seven has always had some peculiar significance. On the seventh day of the seventh month a holy observance was ordained to the children of Israel, who fasted seven days and remained seven days in tents. The seventh year was supposed to be a Sabbath, or rest, for all, and at the end of seven times seven there was to be a jubilee. Jacob served seven years to win Rachel for his wife. Noah had seven days' warning of the flood. Nebuchadnezzar lived seven years as a beast. The Savior spoke seven times from the cross on which he hung seven hours. In Scripture there are seven resurrections mentioned. In the Lord's Prayer there are seven petitions. There were seven mysteries of the apocalypse revealed in the seven churches in Asia. In Revelations there are described seven lambs before the seven spirits of God, seven golden candlesticks, a book with seven seals, seven angels with seven trumpets, seven players, seven vials of wrath, seven kings, seven thunders, and a dragon with seven heads.

4 AUTOISTS ARE FINED $10, COSTS, NO LICENSE PLATES

Arrests Made by R. W. Dixon, State Inspector; One or Both Tags Were Missing

Four automobile drivers were fined $10 and costs by County Judge Brindley Thursday afternoon for operating cars without one or both license plates. The arrests were made by R. W. Dixon, inspector for the state automobile license department.

Arthur Lee, driver for the M. Erickson Bakery company, did not have a front license plate on his car when Dixon stopped him the first time. Lee said he had the plate in the car and intended putting it on. Dixon stopped Lee twice again the same afternoon and the third time he arrested him. Lee told the court he was too busy delivering buns to put the plate on.

R. J. Andrews was charged with operating a car without either plate. "My own carelessness," he told the court.

An employee of Harry Dahl was driving a Ford without a dealer's license plates. The warrant was sworn out for Mr. Dahl. He was not in court but a representative at his was paid the $10 fine and costs.

Garvey Nicoli, employed by G. C. Phillips was fined $10 and costs for driving a Studebaker service car without displaying dealer's plates.

The Art Exhibit At The Chamber of Commerce

THE LANDSCAPES
BY D. O. COATE

Today we shall notice the landscapes in the exhibit and their painters.

The story of Ralph A. Blakelock's life is one of tragedy and pathos. Born in New York in 1817, he was self-taught and had a studio in the city.

He inclines, in his style, to the Barbizon conception of landscape like Innes, Wyant and Homer Martin, of whose work he is the best disciple.

A feeling for color and tone distinguishes his best work, and he ranks as one of the foremost American landscape painters, particularly in evening and moonlight subjects. His theme is usually the forest, primeval with mysterious shades peopled with red men. For many years he suffered the most complete neglect, and the difficulties of caring for a large family on his slender earnings so affected his mind that it was necessary to confine him in an insane asylum where he remained for many years. Friends exhibited his pictures from time to time, and at last, in 1913, the National Academy bestowed a tardy recognition on him. The degree of academician came to him in 1915. The next year he was released from the asylum. He has tried to paint again, but his spirit seems broken. The Metropolitan owns his "The Pipe Dance," perhaps his best picture. He is represented in the Corcoran, the National and other large art galleries. His comparatively few canvases that are for sale at all, now bring high prices. The landscape on exhibit is most interesting as showing that artist's ability and the habit of applying coats of varnish over the finished picture. See this Blakelock.

Dwight W. Tryon is a native of Hartford, Conn., born in 1849. Studied in Paris at the Ecole des Beaux-Arts, and under Daubigny De la Chevreuse and others.

He was director of the Hartford School of Art, and afterwards held the chair of art in Smith college. His home is in New York. He is well represented in all public collections in America—in the National gallery at Washington, and in the Metropolitan Museum, New York. He has been awarded numerous medals and other honors, testimonials to his skill and success as one of the foremost landscape painters of America.

As one stands before his "November," so quietly subdued in tone, so quiet in its perfect color harmony, its poetic atmosphere and the feeling of how well painted it is, are uppermost in one's mind. Perhaps in these days of jazz music, barbaric dancing, ultra dressing, made-up faces and general lack of respect for the respectable and proper, this picture seems a bit over-refined. Somehow it seems to lack the "punch." We now demand that a picture shall scream at us in stringent, raucous tones, or it appears old-fashioned, a word to damn anything these days. All of Tryon's pictures are notable for their subtle charm, their fine technical qualities, and poetic suggestiveness. His portrayals of dawn and twilight stand alone in beauty of conception and execution. When you are standing before Tryon's "Autumn," you are looking at one of the great masterpieces in this department of painting.

Richard E. Miller, born in St. Louis, 1875. Studied in St. Louis School of Fine Arts and Julian Academy, Paris, exhibiting first in the Salon, 1901, and gaining the gold medal. He has since received many medals and honors, and is represented in the Luxembourg and other European galleries. In the Corcoran, at Washington, Metropolitan, New York, and Penn. Academy of Fine Arts, Philadelphia, Art Institute, Chicago, Carnegie Institute, Pittsburgh.

Robt. Reid, b. Stockbridge, Mass., 1862, a pupil of Bonpland and Lafosse in Paris, where he began his art studies. Though he shows the influence of Impressionism, he has maintained his academic correctness and the insistence of detail which reader his work singularly effective. His great decorative piece in the Paris exposition of 1900 ("America Traveling After Natural Strength") was much admired, and like all his productions in this department has exalted his reputation.

The splendidly composed and perfectly executed landscapes of Gardner Symons and William E. Metcalf give the modern pull to the landscape portion of the exhibit—modern in the best sense of that elastic term; for they are poetically felt and executed by a craftsman-like finish that is a joy to see. Metcalf's "Family of Birchies," all in green, a summer scene, is a clump of beautiful trees against a background of charming cloud-flecked sky, whose blue is reflected in some quiet water. It is a canvas one could live with indefinitely. It is largely executed with the dot and dash method, and has much life imparted to it by the glint of the unpainted specks of white canvas showing through. Its true values give it good carrying power.

Metcalf's training included work at the best art schools in both the U. S. and Europe, and he has received the highest honors and awards in both continents. He was born in Lowell, Mass., and is one of "The Ten" in art.

Gardner Symons' "End of Day" is a winter scene, representing a border-strewn hillside rather sparsely covered with trees against a background of lovely sunset sky. The picture has plenty of poetic atmosphere and is a very decorative piece, with excellent carrying power.

Mr. Symons is a Chicagoan by birth. He has had the guidance of art training, beginning at the Chicago Art Institute and including study at Paris, London and Munich. His "The Opalescent River" is the property of the Metropolitan Museum; while he is represented in the Corcoran Gallery, the Chicago Art Institute, and Cincinnati Art Museum by "Snow Cloud," "Winter's Sun," and "Snow-Crow," respectively. He is noted for his masterful treatment of winter scenes.

This afternoon (Friday) from three to four a gallery talk will be given to a special group of visitors, though anyone else is welcome.

On Saturday afternoon the assembly room of the Chamber of Commerce for the exhibit may be visited after 2:30, and in the evening from 7:00 to 9:00 as usual, daylight-wasting time.

CHICAGO, Ill.—Wife No. 2, Mrs. Mary Small, identified to her own satisfaction, Charles A. Small, held in jail for having three wives without divorces from any of them, by the way he pronounced "Sweet Petunia." "I can tell by the way he says it, he's my husband," she told detectives. "There's no other man in the world can say 'Sweet Petunia' like that." She said she learned wife No. 1 was Miss Aggie Bellazz until she married Small in Weir, Kan., in October, 1910.

A CENTURY ON HIS FEET
The elephant has come down to us through the ages, surviving the conditions which killed off his earlier contemporaries, and he now adapts himself perfectly to more different conditions than any other animal in Africa. He can eat anything that is green or ever has been, just so long as there is enough of it. He can get his water from the alga plants on the arid plains, or dig a well in the sand of a dry river bed with his trunk and fore foot, and drink there, or he is equally at home living half in the swamps or better watered regions.

He is at home on the low, bog plains of the seacoast at the equator, or on the cool slopes. So far as is known he suffers from no contagious disease and has no enemies except man. "There are elephants on Kema," says Mr. Carl Akoley, "that have never lain down for a hundred years." Some of the plains elephants do rest, lying down, but no one ever saw a Kema elephant lying down or any evidence that they do lie down to rest."

MADISON, Wis.—Five cities in Wisconsin now have policewomen, according to Marilyn Riley, director of social work for the state board of health. Madison has two, Racine, Superior and Eau Claire, one each, and a new

LONESOME FOR HIS WARES
Mooney, the traveling salesman, was a bit depressed, for trade was bad. It was the end of another black day and the discouraged drummer called on another merchant to display his samples.

"But I want nothing today," said the merchant.

"At least you will just examine my line of goods?" suggested Mooney.

The merchant thought not.

"In that case," suggested Mooney meekly, "will you permit me the use of your counter to look at them myself? I have not had the opportunity to do so for some time."—Philadelphia Ledger.

FIVE BADGER CITIES EMPLOY POLICEWOMEN
MADISON, Wis.—Five cities in Wisconsin now have policewomen, according to Marilyn Riley, director of social work for the state board of health. Madison has two, Racine, Superior and Eau Claire, one each, and a new appointee takes up the work at Janesville July 1. Appleton, Wausau and Chippewa Falls have the employment of policewomen under consideration. Madison and Chippewa Falls have women serving on police commissions.

LONESOME FOR HIS WARES
Mooney, the traveling salesman, was a bit depressed, for trade was bad. It was the end of another black day and the discouraged drummer called on another merchant to display his samples.

"But I want nothing today," said the merchant.

"At least you will just examine my line of goods?" suggested Mooney.

The merchant thought not.

"In that case," suggested Mooney meekly, "will you permit me the use of your counter to look at them myself? I have not had the opportunity to do so for some time."—Philadelphia Ledger.

Packing boxes made of seasoned lumber rough usage six to ten times as well as those made of green lumber.

IDENTIFIES MATE BY WAY HE SAYS "SWEET PETUNIA"

CHICAGO, Ill.—Wife No. 2, Mrs. Mary Small, identified to her own satisfaction, Charles A. Small, held in jail for having three wives without divorces from any of them, by the way he pronounced "Sweet Petunia." "I can tell by the way he says it, he's my husband," she told detectives. "There's no other man in the world can say 'Sweet Petunia' like that." She said she learned wife No. 1 was Miss Aggie Bellazz until she married Small in Weir, Kan., in October, 1910.
